Form 1098-T FAQs

What is a Form 1098-T?

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) requires SFA to issue Form 1098-T, Tuition Statement, to certain students. The 1098-T reports qualified tuition and related expenses (QTRE) as defined by the IRS, and provides information necessary to determine eligibility for federal education tax credits.

Form 1098-T is an informational form and may not match personal payment records or the amounts taxpayers should enter on their tax returns. Taxpayers may have made QTRE payments that are not on Form 1098-T, such as those for required books and supplies. It is the taxpayer’s responsibility to report actual QTRE payments made during the calendar year to the IRS.

In 2017 and before, the amount reported in Box 2 of the 1098-T was the QTRE billed by SFA to the student’s account during the calendar (tax) year. Due to changes in IRS reporting requirements beginning with the 2018 year, Box 2 is no longer used. Instead, Box 1 is used to report the amount of QTRE paid between January 1-December 31 for that year’s semesters/terms. Therefore, QTRE payments received by SFA from January 1-December 31, 2018, for 2018 semesters/terms are reported in Box 1 of the 2018 Form 1098-T. (Payments made during 2018 but applied to previous- or future-year semesters/terms are not included.) There was no change in reporting requirements for Box 5, which is the total of scholarships, grants and contracts processed by SFA and posted to the student’s account during the calendar year.

Note: not every student is issued a Form 1098-T. For example, a student who has scholarships and/or grants that fully cover the amount of their QTRE does not receive a 1098-T.

A duplicate 1098-T may be requested by completing the 1098-T Duplicate Request Form and following the instructions on the form.
Can parents/guardians have online access to my 1098-T?

No, only students have access through mySFA.

Why are the amounts on my 1098-T different from the amounts I paid SFA?

This is a common question. Qualified tuition and related fees (QTRE) reported on the 1098-T are defined by the IRS. The IRS does not consider fees such as room and board, post office box rental, and parking fines as QTRE. Therefore, they are excluded from amounts reported on the 1098-T. Additionally, amounts reported on Form 1098-T include only payments made during the year for that year’s semesters/terms. Payments applied to previous- or future-year semesters/terms are not included.
