>>> Welcome to the meeting on Sunday January 26. I would like to call the meeting to order. I want to thank you all for coming on this rainy Sunday afternoon. I said a lot of prayers yesterday and the board has blessed us with a cloudy beautiful non-rainy [Indiscernible]. Dr. Westbrook said he's been waiting 18 years for a board meeting.

We should make it a trend. We will have fun at the farm. And trudging around in our boots and jackets and we will carry that thing on through for dinner I hope. I do want to let you know there are nametags at your place is. If everyone is going to the farm, we would like you to put your name tag on. These are for you to keep. April made these for you so you can keep these in your car and you can have them. And she will have some here at the building so you can use here. >>> We do have a very aggressive agenda as usual. Travel and depending on the conditions when we get to the farm, it will dictate how long we stay on task. We will have a little education and a packet for you for the write out. Then we will do the tour and we will get back in the car for further discussion on the way back. Then we will be able to talk about the things in executive session when we returned. So a lot of that discussion can happen in between. Keep that in mind because we do need to stay on task and be back here and ready to go at 3:45.

We are going to recess to travel to the buses to go to the farm. If everyone would please move quickly toward the buses at the bottom of the stairs. We will take off. Thank you.

Welcome back. We will reconvene our meeting of the Board of Regents at large. And at this time, we are going to reset into executive session. We should be expecting David authors any minute. He will come in while we're in the session. >>
