The Family and Consumer Sciences program is designed with two tracks - general FCS or Education.

This major prepares students for broad-based employment in the field of family and consumer sciences and for effective individual and family living.

There are three teaching certifications in Family and Consumer Sciences (FCS):

- FCS Composite (Certificate to teach all FCS high school courses)
- FCS with Hospitality and Food Science (Certified to teach food, nutrition, and hospitality courses)
- FCS with Human Development and Family Studies (Certified to teach child development, parenting, and family studies)

Nancy Shepherd, PhD
Assistant Professor, Program Coordinator
shepherdn@sfasu.edu
936-468-1413

IMPROVING THE LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, FAMILIES & COMMUNITIES