Women’s and Gender Studies Symposium

Program held from 12:00-4:00 PM
April 5, 2019

Undergraduate and graduate students who have conducted research related to gender or women’s studies are welcome to submit their projects. Presentation formats include paper presentation, panel, roundtable discussion, scholarly poster, performance, and visual art.

Submission deadline:
March 27, 2019

Submission form below:

For more information:
Contact Linda Levitt
levittlb@sfasu.edu
(936) 468-1236
The Women’s and Gender Studies Symposium, sponsored by the Division of Multidisciplinary Programs, will be held April 5 in the Ferguson Building on campus. Jordan Johnson, doctoral candidate in Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies at Emory University, will present the keynote talk, “Into the Archive: Feminist Curiosity and Interdisciplinary Research.” Student paper and poster presentations will follow.

Undergraduate and graduate students who have conducted research related to gender or women’s studies are welcome to submit their projects. Presentation formats include paper presentation, panel, roundtable, and poster. Submission deadline is March 27. For more information, contact Linda Levitt at levittlb@sfasu.edu or 468-1236. Please send the following information to wgs@sfasu.edu to submit to the symposium.

Projects submitted to or presented at other SFA conferences (URC, GRC, Diversity Conference) are eligible for submission to the WGS Symposium.

Project Title:

50-100 word description:

Select presentation format:
___ 10-12 minute individual paper presentation
___ 30 minute roundtable
___ 60 minute paper panel (4 papers, 10-12 minutes each)
___ Poster
___ Visual art
___ Performance

Faculty sponsor:
(does not need to be present at symposium)
Name:
Department:
Email:
Phone:

Student:
Project title (if individual paper or topic):
Name:
Major:
Email:

For a roundtable or panel, please list all students on the same form.