

Marketing a New Program

1. Know who your audience is
2. Know what you want them to do
3. Goldilocks Principle: Not too narrow, not too broad
4. Know where your audience spends their time
5. Know who influences their decision-making
6. Know what their goals and objectives are, and how your program meets them
7. Talk benefits, not features