Being an introvert doesn't necessarily make you introverts respond better to predictable, routine structure the lesson so it always started with a w already knew the answers to the questions and u

Introverts don't hate you or your class

If a student is introverted, they often not overly e cold, loners. I found that checking in with student of accessing how they were doing.

Introverts know the answers

Introverts like to have time to process and develop traditionally do well with delivering on the spot. entire class time to develop a response. Sometime simply waiting ten more seconds than usual.

It's ok to cater to introverts

Many teachers try to "cure" introverts. The fact is extrovert oriented approaches to learning. One o (like TodayMeet) to have a silent discussion of a

The image features several handcrafted paper cutouts of speech bubbles. One is a bright yellow bubble with a textured, scale-like surface. Another is a purple bubble with a smooth gradient from light to dark purple. A third is a brown bubble with a jagged, starburst-like top edge. A fourth is a plain grey bubble. The bubbles are arranged on a white background, with some overlapping. A dark grey horizontal band with white text is superimposed over the center of the image.
